

Drunkenness Cured

It is Now Within the Reach of Every Woman to Save the Drunkard.

A TRIAL PACKAGE OF THIS MARVELOUS HOME REMEDY MAILED FREE TO ALL WHO WRITE FOR IT.

Can be Given in Tea, Coffee or Food, Thus Absolutely and Secretly Curing the Patient in a Short Time Without His Knowledge.

There is a cure for Drunkenness that has shed a radiance into thousands of hitherto desolate dwellings. It does its work so silently and surely that while the devoted wife, sister or daughter looks on, the drunkard is reclaimed, even against his will and without his knowledge or co-operation. The discoverer of this great remedy, Dr. Haines, will send a sample of the remedy free to all who will write for it. Enough of the remedy is mailed free to show how it is used in tea, coffee, or food, and that it will cure the dreaded habit quietly and permanently.

The above is a picture of Mrs. John M. Haines, of Lebanon, Ohio, who wrote as follows:

I shall never hesitate to recommend Golden Specific, for I entirely cured my husband, who had been a hard drinker for years. From my own experience, I honestly believe this wonderful remedy will save any drunkard, no matter how far down he may have fallen. I write this letter out of pure gratitude for the marvelous change that has come into my life. Faithfully yours, Mrs. John M. Haines, P. O. Box 161, Lebanon, Ohio.

Years and prayers are of no use. Pleasing, pleasing, loss of social or business position are unavailing to stem the tide of absolute depravity. This famous remedy, Golden Specific, discovered by Dr. Haines, has reunited thousands of scattered families. It has saved thousands of men to social and business prominence and public respect. It has guided many a young man from the right road to fortune; has saved the father, the brother, the son and in many cases the wife and daughter, too. So, to a Governor, Dr. Haines should be known to everyone. Dr. Haines is not a philanthropist in his own estimation, and yet he is one of the greatest benefactors of the family who know of him.

VARIOUS WARSHIPS.

One of the Cramps on the Navies of the World.

(From the Buffalo Express.) The industry of building warships is steadily growing in this country. The stars of our navy are the products of home manufacture, and they have so distinguished themselves that the American-built ship will command more attention from foreign nations than ever before. Some of these are already coming our way. The Cramps have lately received an order from Russia for a battleship and an armored cruiser. Fine touches are being put on a death dealer built for Japan. In conversation lately one of the members of the Cramp firm pointed out to the Buffalo Express a sort of work in this country. There are shipyards at Boston, Philadelphia, on the Chesapeake, at San Francisco and elsewhere all cupped in the time and behind the kind of war boat.

Mr. Cramp thinks the German navy is much inferior to our own. Says he: "The German navy is not so good as ours. Their warships that they have had with their passenger ships. They do not get the speed out of the German ships which they desire and which we can give them."

"The best of the Spanish ships were built by Scotch engineers in Spain. The Spanish had one very fine ship, the Cristobal Colon, but she was not so good as ours. But most of the Spanish vessels are built so slowly, with the laziness characteristic of that nation, that they come out behind time and behind the improvements. It is also thought that these vessels can outlast ours, as the newspapers are constantly maintaining."

"The Spanish trial course is a measured mile, and they go to steam on the very high degree before they strike the mile post and then sail around after the mile post, where they again approach the mile post, when they are ready for a short dash at a high mark. They then enter the ship as capable of continuously making the speed of that stipulated mile. We, on the other hand, are tried on a series of miles, and have several trials from which the average is taken, and that is subject to an analysis and aggregate of the revolutions. The fact is that the American twin and triple screw steamers have no equals anywhere."

"The French sacrifices practically in their warships to the psychological and artistic depiction. If you would look at their warships you would think they were tigers and terrors, by the way they cock up and show their teeth and seem to be made to scare nations."

"England has a few ships perhaps larger than ours, but the general standard is maintained as to size in all the leading countries. The American navy is the last thing out, and it has given great satisfaction."

"A lesson of the present war is to be that on the naval front depends a nation's superiority. Remarkably little fighting is done in our day on land. The only nation which claims supremacy by reason of its army is Germany, but that army would have a hard time ever getting back to England with the English navy to encounter."

TOSSED IN A BLANKET

The Owner of the Camp Alger Grounds the Victim.

THE TYPHOID STILL RAGES

It Will Be But a Few Days More Until All the Well Troops Will Have Been Removed to Manassas Junction—Several Discharges From Court-Martial.

Typoid fever rages at Camp Alger, although the full Second Division is now encamped at Manassas. Fifty-one cases have been reported in the past two days and there is no sign of the plague abating.

The big level plains where the troops once slept are now baking in the sun and each day seems to increase the odor which ascends from the mud. Here and there desiccated wells stand condemned and give forth water which is little better than the rain pools in the sinks.

A small riot occurred in the old quarters of the Sixth Pennsylvania last night. Several companies of that command are still camped there doing guard duty. How the trouble began is doubtful, but as far as could be learned Mr. Campbell, from whom the War Department leased the grounds upon which Camp Alger was located, had treated some of the boys rather roughly and they concluded not to stand any foolishness. Some of them went to Campbell's house, which stands near the Sixth Pennsylvania quarters, and were met by that gentleman with a revolver. The boys then seized Campbell and after taking the revolver, carried him into the woods where they tossed him in a blanket until they grew tired. They then ran him home and threatened to kill him if he monkeyed with the "Sixth" again.

Private Farmer, Company B, Sixth Pennsylvania, went insane yesterday afternoon, owing to high fever and the heat. He was all right until dinner time, when he began to act strangely and was overpowered after an attempt to throttle a comrade whom he accused of changing his coffee into water. Farmer was taken to Fort Myer in a critical condition and is not expected to live, as typhoid has developed together with brain fever.

The new Second Army Corps colors are now flying at camp headquarters. They are yellow and red.

The First Division of the Second Army Corps, with the division hospitals, will leave Camp Alger for Manassas on Monday.

Gen. Butler spent the day at Manassas on Friday, selecting a location for the troops. He returned yesterday and as hundreds of others are reported, even the worst cases where the habit seems to have abated out the last remaining spark of self-respect.

Years and prayers are of no use. Pleasing, pleasing, loss of social or business position are unavailing to stem the tide of absolute depravity. This famous remedy, Golden Specific, discovered by Dr. Haines, has reunited thousands of scattered families. It has saved thousands of men to social and business prominence and public respect. GREAT MEAT EATERS. Two-thirds of the Beef Consumed in Britain is From America.

(From the London Telegraph.) Tables issued of the quantities and values of the various forms of agricultural produce imported into the United Kingdom show a further increase over those of the immediately preceding year. The payments made for imports of animal products in 1915 exceeded £71,500,000, which is a larger total than has before been recorded.

Meat, which is the most important of the immediately preceding year, shows a further increase over those of the immediately preceding year. The payments made for imports of animal products in 1915 exceeded £71,500,000, which is a larger total than has before been recorded.

Cattle imported in 1915 numbered 618,900 head, and the sheep 612,000. These animals represent in the aggregate an addition to the meat supply of the year of something like 4,500,000 hundredweight, while the beef, mutton, bacon, hams and other products of the year were over 14,000,000 hundredweight. These two classes of sea-borne food together exceeded by 1,600,000 hundredweight the meat imports of 1914, and collectively supplied a ration of fifty-four pounds per head of the population, against a foreign supply of forty pounds per head on the average of the five years 1910 to 1914.

Production has been nearly sustained, these figures suggest a further development of the meat-consuming power of the population, which was the subject of a detailed examination in the report of the returns for 1914.

More meat, home and foreign, in the aggregate was available in 1915 than in any previous year, and the growth of supplies continues to outstrip that of population. The conditions of the year point to the continued supply of meat by each unit of the people, as against an average of 122 pounds per annum in the quinquennium of 1910-15, as much as 41 per cent of the whole being of some variety of other countries, and 59 per cent furnished by the cattle, sheep and swine of the United Kingdom itself.

Sum paid for the returns of our imports which are of vegetable origin have not moved upward with the same regularity as the aggregate values of the imports belonging to the animal category. The wheat returns of 1915 were less than in any calendar year since 1910, and less by thirty-three pounds per head of the population of the United Kingdom than in the previous year. The United States supplied two-thirds of the 618,900 head received coming from that country, while Argentine sheep were handled alive in 1915 in greater numbers than from any other country. The dead meat imports are as formerly more than half of American origin, three-fourths of the fresh beef and mutton being supplied by the United States.

Supplies of Australia are next in magnitude, two-thirds of the mutton coming from this quarter. In 1915 America sent to the United Kingdom a total weight of supply larger than in 1914, 61 per cent of the whole, against only 42 per cent of the large wheat imports of 1915.

"THE DEPENDABLE STORE."

The last of the Leecke stock goes on sale tomorrow.

The final sale will be a great one! We cut the prices bad enough at first, but now we have fairly slaughtered them! If the response comes which we expect, Monday night at store closing will see the last of the Leecke stock. It has been a remarkable sale! The whole city has been stirred from one end to the other with the values which we have offered. It was, indeed, a lucky purchase, and thousands of people have been loud in their praises of our enterprise in securing it.

What we put on sale tomorrow aren't the "leavings" by any means. If we had had the time last week to get at this part of it it would have gone on sale, but we didn't have a minute, and that is why we offer it tomorrow. Be here by all means.

Shirt waists pour in on us!

The first shipment of 50c, 75c and $1 shirt waists which we contracted to take from a maker went on sale yesterday morning.

The whole town seems shirt waist crazy—over the wonderful values found in the lot. Every single garment goes at 23 cents,

and most of them were made to be sold for a dollar.

Think of the enormous quantity 6,140 waists is! The immense selling of a day has reduced it to at least a half. People are buying five and six at a clip, realizing that such an opportunity will not come again this season.

The immense lot consists of fine gingham, percales, black satins, organdies, lawns, plain and figured linens, etc. There is every size in the lot, and they're all assorted on tables so that choosing is but a matter of a minute or so. Some of them are made of heavy weight materials, and are suitable for wear into the Fall.

We are limiting the quantity when we see fit, for we are determined that other stores will not get them to sell again.

If you ignore this offering, understand, you are ignoring the offering of

50c, 75c and $1 shirt waists for 23 cents

—an opportunity which isn't offered you in a lifetime. The lot is worthy a better description, but be assured that no better made or better fitting waists are to be had than these are, for the maker of them holds the reputation of turning out the most desirable garments to be had.

Five-yard pieces of linen Skirt Binding, for crash skirts, will be sold for 9c.

Brainerd & Armstrong's "Cortina" Spool Silk, in 50-yard spools, will be sold for 2c.
